STUART YOUNG

Takes His Own Life At Louisville to Escape Disgrace.

Short In His Accounts As City
Treasurer to the Amount of $23,000.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 28.—Stuart Robinson Young, former City Treasurer, former Assistant Postmaster of Louisville, clubman, and a bridegroom of but a few weeks, took his own life last night by shooting himself through the brain with a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver. Mr. Young retired from office about ten days ago and an examination of the accounts has revealed a shortage of about $23,000, though the exact amount has not been officially ascertained. Although friends stood ready to make good every dollar, he was not able to stand the threatened exposure. For several days he had been drinking rather heavily and was in no condition when the crisis was reached to endure the shame. In this mood he rashly ended his life before his friends had an opportunity to come to his assistance, although offers of help were made when the first rumors of trouble began to circulate.

Mr. Young was married last August to Miss Bessie Wymond and lived with his bride at the Louisville Hotel.

He was a son of Col. Bennett H. Young, was 34 years old and a graduate of Princeton College.

AFTER COAL

And When Detected Knocked Down
L. & N. Brakeman.

Samuel L. Morgan, an L. & N. freight brakeman, was struck on the head with a rock or lump of coal by an unknown negro in the yards here at an early hour Tuesday morning and badly hurt. A gash several inches in length was cut and the loss of blood was considerable. Morgan claims the man was attempting to steal coal from his train when he came upon him, and that when he ordered him away the negro struck him. The negro made his escape.

While Morgan's injuries are very painful they are not considered serious.

DATILLO-DATILLO.

Groom Recently From California
And Bride From Sicily.

Philip Datillo, who recently arrived here from California, and Mrs. Mary Datillo, of Sicily, were married at the home of Chas. Datillo, brother of the groom, last night. Father Hill performed the ceremony. The bride arrived in the city from Sicily Wednesday. She was the widow of the groom's uncle.

The couple will make their home here, where the groom is engaged in the fruit business with his brothers.

MCCORD-CLARK.

Country Couple Married Here By Dr. Nourse.

Mr. Otho McCord, of the Crofton neighborhood, and Miss Maud Clark, of Pon, were united in marriage in the city Wednesday afternoon.

The wedding took place at the residence of Dr. W. L. Nourse, the officiating minister.

The young people are quite popular in North Christian society. The groom is a brother of Rev. Alex McCord.

Messrs. O. S. Parker, S. T. Fruit, F. H. Reushaw, J. R. Brame, Joe H. Williams, Alex Gilliland and C. A. Brasher have been appointed supervisors of taxes for Christian county for the year 1902. They will convene at the Court House.

STATE WEAKENS.

Nortonville Strikers Given Liberty
Without Bonds and Back in Camp.

Soldiers Defied and Houses Being Erected For Hundreds of Agitators.

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 28.—The examining trial of the twenty-one miners was called before County Judge Hall yesterday. The prisoners were all brought into court guarded by Deputy Sheriffs. Attorneys Cliff Wardell, J. Fleming Gordon and County Attorney Morrow appeared for the Commonwealth; Jennings R. B. Bradley, Everett Jennings and Jertold Johnson represented the defendants. Every man in the court room was searched for weapons by the Deputy Sheriffs.

After a conference between the attorneys of both sides which lasted some time, Judge Hall released the twenty-one prisoners on their personal recognizance to appear before the Circuit Court and answer to any charge that may have been found against them by the grand jury.

This proposition was made by the prosecution. The union officials and their attorneys took on this as a big victory.

The charge against the miners is confederating and banding together for the purpose of intimidating nonunion miners. Only the prisoners, attorneys, court officials and newspaper correspondents were admitted. A large crowd was in town, attracted by the trial, but for fear something might be done to cause trouble it was deemed best to refuse admittance to everyone except those interested.

The Strikers' Hotel.

Fifty men are now at work on a building at Nortonville that will accommodate five hundred union miners. The building will be erected on the site of the old campground which was disbanded Sunday. This ground, which consists of several acres, has been leased by the union strikers.

It is the intention of the union officials to build several more large houses at Nortonville. When completed these buildings will be occupied by all the union miners and their families in the strike district. President Wood said that by January 1 he expected to have three thousand people at Nortonville, and would make this place union headquarters.

Judge Hall's Course Unknown.

Judge Hall when seen this morning refused to say what action he will take against the union miners who have returned to Nortonville. He said he did not have time to discuss the question. It is known, however, that he has a personal representative at Nortonville investigating the situation. When this man reports Judge Hall will make known what action he will again call on the miners at Nortonville, whether camped in tents or in houses, to disperse, and should they fail to comply with his orders he will again call on Gen. Murray and his troops to disperse them.

The Murdered Miner.

The death of Burt Williams, the union miner, whose body was found lying near the track of the Illinois Central railroad not far from Nortonville, with a gunshot wound in his body, is still worrying the authorities. An inquest was held and the verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death from a gunshot inflicted by unknown parties.

Hand Badly Cut.

Mr. Thurmond Richards, a clerk for Shadoin & Curtis, fell from a bicycle Wednesday and one of his hands was quite badly cut. He was riding in the store when he lost control of the wheel and fell against a show case.

SHOT IN SIDE

By Her Sweetheart, But Wound
is Not Serious.

Jealously Causes "Scrap" at Empire And Miner Uses Savage Rifle With Effect.

Jessie Campbell, col., was shot in the side by a coored coal miner named Couch, at Empire Monday night. The weapon used was a Savage rifle and the shot was fired at close range.

It seems that the parties had been sweethearts for some time, but the woman had recently been receiving the attentions of another.

This enraged Couch and he attacked her with the result as stated. Couch fired two shots and then fled and had not been heard from up to noon yesterday.

It is believed that he is hiding in Hopkins county. The ball made only a flesh wound and the woman is not thought to be seriously hurt.

BRAMBURG-KLEEMAN.

Marriage of a Young Nashville Doctor to Miss Kleeman.

Dr. Perry Bramburg, of Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Daisy D. Kleeman were married last evening, at the home of Mr. Henry M. Frankel, on South Main street. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Lewenthal. It was a very quiet affair, on account of recent deaths in the family. The groom is a prominent young physician and a member of the faculty of the University of Tennessee.

His bride is a daughter of Mr. Wm. Kleeman, of Clarksville, and a sister of Mrs. Frankel, at whose home the marriage took place. The young couple left on the midnight train for Nashville.

QUIET MARKET.

But Little of The Weed Sold
This Week.

County Full of Loose Buyers And Many Contracts Made: Clarksville Getting Slice.

Sales of the weed this week were small and were made up principally of lugs and common leaf. Prices were about the same as those of last week's quotations.

Receipts were also small. The loose market is inactive, owing to a lack of stock, but this line of the business will improve materially as soon as the weed begins to move.

The recent damp weather had the effect of bringing tobacco in moderate order, but the weed was so dry that it soon got beyond the point of handling again. A real good season is much desired by the farmers as they are nearly all anxious to put their crops upon the market.

Buyers are out in full blast all over the country and many crops over Christian County have been sold. Hopkinsville buyers have made many purchases in the county, while Clarksville dealers have also made some contracts in South Christian.

Prices being paid range from 5c to 7c round. Some farmers have been visited during the past week by a dozen buyers and all of their offers were rejected.

HANCOCK-MANN.

Mr. George B. Hancock, of Trigg county, and Mrs. Minnie J. Mann, of this city, were quietly married at the home of the bride at 5 o'clock p.m. Wednesday. Elder M. W.

A DIVORCE CHART.

States of the Union Where the Law Is Lenient.

An enterprising publishing firm has put on the market a rather unique document. It is nothing less than a divorce chart of the United States from which unhappy couples can quickly learn in what state they can get separated with the greatest ease and ease, says the Salt Lake Herald.

"By mere glance," it explains, "the particular information sought may be obtained. The form and manner in which the laws are placed before the reader are as simple as comprehension for the layman as they are for the lawyer."

The chart, it is to be feared, will do much to put a damper on the divorce industry of South Dakota. Idaho, Nebraska and Nevada are equipped with just as rapid-fire divorce laws as the more widely advertised state. In fact, they beat South Dakota on every material point, for while the last named state does not permit the remarriage of a guilty defendant on either party, they also require less notice of an action than South Dakota, construe cases just as liberally and demand no longer residence.

But easy divorce can be had in the east just as well as in the west. Staid old Connecticut, Maine and Delaware border themselves not about length of residence, so long as the cause originates on their soil. They also provide a liberal number of causes for persons desiring separation to choose from.

South Carolina is the most inapplicable state of all to the would-be divorcee. The law there is strict to the verge of barbarism. But in the majority of states this interesting chart shows that to a couple so minded one can be very easily obtained, and it is some the untying of the knot is not much more difficult than the tying.

HARD UPON ABORIGINES.

Have Wrought by Diseases and Vices of Civilization.

"The injurious influence of 'civilization' upon aborigines has been shown in a good many cases within recent years, and is now being once more witnessed in Alaska. The decline in the numbers of the natives of the Alaskan islands is most remarkable. Where there were formerly about 120 villages, with a total population of from 1,500 to 2,500 persons, there are now not more than ten villages, while the population has declined to 1,000 individuals, and only 700 of this number are full-blooded natives. This strong tendency to extinction of native populations has been most strikingly exemplified in Hawaii and Australasia, where tribes were often annihilated in a few years by their inability to resist the diseases and vices of civilization. In the Alaskan islands a large proportion of the recent deaths are ascribed to measles and consumption—both unknown until a few years ago. The population of Alaska is rapidly growing, having about doubled from 1800 to 1900, and as the native element has dwindled, the increase of the white settlers must have been much more than 100 per cent. Similar changes are in progress in Hawaii—N. Y. Post.

A GEOLOGICAL FALLACY.

Some People Believe Oil and Gas Can Be Found Anywhere.

Probably the most wild and unjustifiable of all the crude beliefs respecting geological resources is that which holds to the conviction that by going deep enough the drill is sure to find something of value, no matter what point the work of boring is commenced. There are numerous wise persons in every community, estimable, influential, and in the highest degree public spirited, who are convinced that the question, for example, of finding coal in the special locality, is simply a matter of the depth to which the explorations are carried. Rock oil and natural gas are recognized as desirable products in every progressive community, and every such community contains persons, in other respects intelligent, who are ready to stake their own fortune and that of their nearest friends on the belief that oil and gas are everywhere underneath the surface, and that their sources can be tapped with the drill, provided only there is sufficient capital to keep up the process of drilling long enough.—Mines and Minerals.

A Grievous Grievance.

Every man has about him grievances that he brings whenever he wishes.

"I wrote Dr. Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free."

"I endured nearly four years of suffering," writes Mrs. L. Myers, of Washington, W. Va., "caused principally from improper medical attention after the birth of a child, and female weakness, resulting in a complication of diseases. Had a terrible cough and an incessant pain and soreness in lungs. Was reduced in flesh from 184 pounds to about 100 pounds in eighteen months. I had no appetite, became so weak and nervous I could scarcely sit up. I doctored with our home physicians for two years with no benefit. I was finally induced to try Dr. Pierce's medicine."

I wrote to Doctor Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free. He gave me the proper medicines for my case. After taking but four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and four of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three doses each day, also taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed and some of his 'Pellaea,' I ceased coughing, and am now enjoying splendid health and have gained 40 pounds in weight. I again feel like my former self. Thank God for Dr. Pierce and his great medicines."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter FREE. All correspondence carefully confidential, and all communications guarded by strict professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PROFITABLE CARELESSNESS.

How a Saddle Was Paid For Forty Times.

A very amusing tale is told by a famous story teller about a harness maker who had a shop many years ago in a fashionable street in the West end of London. He had a handsome saddle in his shop, occupying a conspicuous position therein. On his return from luncheon one day he observed that the saddle was gone. Calling to his foreman, he said:

"John, who has bought the saddle?"

"I'm sure I don't know, sir," said the foreman, scratching his head, as if he were trying to think. "I cannot tell, and the worst part of it is, it hasn't been paid for. While I was at work in the back of the shop a gentleman came in, tried it, decided to take it, told me to charge it, and, throwing it into his dog-cart, drove off before I could think to ask his name."

"That was very stupid of you," said the harness maker, disposed to be angry at the man's carelessness. "Very likely he was robbed."

"I don't think that, sir," said the foreman, scratching his head, as if he were trying to think. "I cannot tell, and the worst part of it is, it hasn't been paid for. While I was at work in the back of the shop a gentleman came in, tried it, decided to take it, told me to charge it, and, throwing it into his dog-cart, drove off before I could think to ask his name."

The bookkeeper was instructed to do this, and the bills in his course of time went out. Some weeks later the harness maker asked the bookkeeper if he had succeeded in discovering who the customer was.

"No, sir," he replied, "and we never shall. I fear, sir, for about 40 people have paid for it already without saying a word."—London Tit-Bits.

ENGLAND'S FIRST EARL.

He is Duke of Norfolk and considered the Richest Chief of British Catholics.

The Candid Friend, a London paper, announces that the duke of Norfolk is going to marry Lady Alice Fitzwilliam, who recently became a Catholic. Lady Alice, Mary Fitzwilliam, is a daughter of Earl Fitzwilliam. She was born in 1849. The duke of Norfolk was born in 1847. He married in 1877 Lady Alice Fitzwilliam, who died in 1887. He has one son living, the earl of Arundel and Surrey, who was born in 1879.

The duke of Norfolk is the premier earl of England, his title dating back to 1209.

DUKE OF NORFOLK. (Earl Marshal and Chief Butler of the British Kingdom.)

to the ninth century, and is of a family whose position as nobles is older than any now existing in Europe. He is earl marshal and chief butler of England, and as such has had the deciding of important questions in connection with the coronation of King Edward, such as the making up of a list of those entitled to witness the ceremony. As earl marshal he led the procession at Queen Victoria's funeral. The last ten months his duke has been the center of an extremely bitter religious controversy. This began when, visiting the position in Rome at the head of a party of English pilgrims, he offended the friends of the Italian royal family by expressing in an address to his holiness the hope that a new century would see the restoration of the pope to temporal power. The secular press in Italy denounced the duke, who is considered the spiritual chief of English Catholics, as an 'impudent intermeddler, a dangerous agitator, and an enemy of free and independent Italy.' There was a storm in Protestant England also over the matter, and some English papers declared the duke had insulted the king of Italy. The duke's position as secular head of English Catholics dates back to his youth, when Cardinal Newman addressed to him the famous 'letter' in reply to Gladstone's anti-Vatican pamphlet. He has been called 'the pope's favorite son.'

THIS AND THAT.

Four immense searchlights and 700 incandescent lights will be turned on the Yosemite falls.

Nearly all islanders are provided with trumpets made of conch shells, the tips being taken off, thus forming a very effective horn.

At the coronation of Queen Elizabeth, in 1558, the roads in the neighborhood of London were so bad that the queen's coach twice stuck in the mud on the way to Westminster, and the queen was compelled to alight while the vehicle was pried out of the ruts by the attendants.

The United States government has taken formal possession of the site which has been secured for the naval station at Charleston, S. C., and the raising of the flag marked the first occupation. The dry dock, the plans for which have already been approved, will be erected at a cost of $1,250,000.

There is a steady demand for discarded champagne corks, says the New York Press, the price being half a cent each. In swell cases they go to the porter who cleans up the room and sets things to rights behind the bar. In small gimmie they are the perquisite of the bartender, who does his own cleaning up.

It is estimated that one county on the eastern shore of Virginia, containing a population of about 13,000, sold this year 550,000 barrels of Irish potatoes at a profit of $1,000,000, which means that every man, woman and child in the county would be entitled to receive, if the money were distributed pro rata, something more than $75 from one crop alone.

The origin of the name "Sheeny" as applied to a Jew, according to the New York Sun, is uncertain. Some persons think that it arose because the Jews, when persecuted or annoyed in Germany, cursed their tormentors, using the phrase meshke meshkein, "may you be cursed with the five great curses," and so were called "sheenies," another origin derives it from the French chien, a dog, given to the Jews by the Normans; a third makes it originally a term of honor, derived from the initial Shin.

THE PRO AND CON.

Question of a National Valhalla Has Two Sides to It.

Senator Platt's recent suggestion that President McKinley should have been buried in Washington, "so that visitors at the national capital could easily visit the tomb of the man they love," has inspired the Christian Work to proclaim the need of a "National Valhalla," where our presidents, statesmen, captains and other great men may be buried. "Properly," it says, "our great men belong to the nation, and their last resting place should be accessible to the people. But Jefferson and Madison are buried in Virginia, Webster in Massachusetts, Clay in Kentucky, Lincoln in Illinois, Harrison in Indiana, Scott in North Carolina and Grant in New York, and now McKinley in Ohio. This ought not to be. There is an impressiveness and suggestiveness involving an appeal to a high and lofty patriotism in visiting the tombs of the great men of a country which may not lightly be ignored. But how can this be possible with our great men interred at different points in a country extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the great lakes to the gulf? Congress should take hold of this matter." This idea has its attractions, of course, but its execution would involve certain danger which our pious and patriotic contemporaries have apparently not considered with care, suggests the New York Times.

To whom, or to what body, for instance, would it intrust with the decision of claims to interment in the National Valhalla? The opportunity for unseemly controversies, and still more unseemly selections, would be very great. It is well, occasionally, to visit the resting places of the noble dead, but perhaps isolation adds to the impressiveness of such resting places, and the emotions which one of them excites in the sensitive mind would hardly be proportionately increased by a dozen or a hundred in a single group. The truly great are not forgotten wherever they may lie, and the establishment of an American Westminster abbey would not necessarily or altogether be an improvement upon the simplicity of our own system.

Possibilities of North Windows.

Few people appreciate the possibilities of lesser northern windows, where "flowers will not bloom." When given "classical" treatment with such beautiful-leaved plants as palms, ferns, dragon-trees, crotons, ivies and araucarias, which require no direct sunlight, they may be made as attractive as any windows in the

STARVING TO DEATH.

Frightful Conditions in the Famine Districts of Russia.

Russians Have Neither Fodder for Their Cows and Horses Nor Bread for Their Children—Death Is a Blessing.

Forty million people in Russia are facing a famine the horrors of which can scarcely be conceived by those who are not familiar with the life of the common people of the czar's empire. The goldedovsk—the little hunger-of many provinces has become merged in a gold—a great famine embracing a region of 500,000 square miles. In all that part of Russia from the Volga to and beyond the Urals and in the north and west death from starvation has come upon the farm and village people.

In the present case even the potatoes have been burned up by the terrible heat which prevailed during six weeks or more of this summer. The chief crops of the nation are wheat and rye. This year the heat and drought prevented the maturing of the grain and caused it to wither and be destroyed or to be small in size, nutrition and yield. As a result, Russia is facing the most terrible winter in its history and the government is preparing to take steps to ward feeding the people. How insufficient these steps will be can only be judged by history of past famines.

Last year the farmers had a little store of seed corn, but this year they have absolutely nothing. The reports frequently conclude with the words: "The famine conditions must use every effort to obtain the necessary corn and flour, as well as fodder for the domestic animals."

What these few lines imply can be gathered from a book by Dr. C. Lehmann and "Parvus," published at Stuttgart by Dietz. The former is a Munich physician. "Parvus" is a Russian who has been studying political economy at Swiss universities.

The two friends visited Russia in May, 1909, with the object of seeing for themselves the condition of the inhabitants of the districts, where famine may be said to be chronic; especially the governments of Kasan, Simbirsk and Samara. They received two unique assistants from the "popes," as the Russian clergy are called.

What they found may be gathered from the description of a once well-to-do village, which serves as a type of all:

"On approaching the village we saw a few horses worn to skeletons, one or two oxen whose bones, where they pierced the taut skin, were covered with festering sores. They could not long on the stable floor, not having strength to get up. The village itself seems wrapped in the arms of death. No barking of dogs comes from the streets; all are dead. No pigs in the street. No sign or sound of children—the cruel winter and hunger have laid them in an early sleep of death. Nothing to betray the presence of human beings. . . . We enter one of the cottages. It is low, of no particular shape; the walls are made of mud, and the wooden work which supported it being gradually used up for firewood. . . . We were not accustomed to the spectacle we should doubt whether it could serve as a dwelling for human beings, utterly unprotected as it is against rain and cold. Reclining on one shelf in the room are the father and his son, on the other shelf the man's wife and an elderly woman huddled close together. Which of the two women is the wife and which her mother we cannot distinguish from their aged, wrinkled, emaciated faces distorted with misery. The peasant says: 'If he here and die; no one comes near us.' 'Don't they come with bread for you from the Red Cross bakery?' I ask. 'For three days past there has been no bread,' is the reply. 'Why not?' 'Because they have no flour. The police captain has the key of the flour stores, and he is away.' 'How is it with regard to seed corn?' 'Seed corn is distributed, but we have received none.' 'Why not?' 'The elder of our village says there is seed corn for us, but he does not know where it is, and he has sought for it everywhere.'"

Such is the story repeated at every farmhouse in every village. The Red Cross society is helpless in the face of such vast distress. It is equipped to provide bread for, say, 40 people, and sends 400000 to it to be kept there alive. The government corn that is to be distributed rarely finds

Why Study Osteopathy?

If we should offer positive assurance that we could thoroughly qualify you in twenty months to practice a profession that would double, treble or quadruple your present income, your interest would be enlisted.

But of course we cannot guarantee that.

Yet ninety per cent. of the men and women who read this could probably make more money from the practice of Osteopathy in a single year than they now make in five.

The reason is simple. This is an age of specialists. The man or woman who knows one thing well, and follows it successfully.

Osteopaths are specialists. They treat every curable disease successfully, but by natural methods, dissimilar to all other systems.

They have wrought such marvelous cures where all other systems failed that the new method of healing has been wonderfully popularized and given tremendous impetus.

Ten years ago Osteopathy was obscure. To-day it has the legal sanction of nearly half the states.

It furnishes unexampled opportunity to young men and women. Consider that there are less than 2,000 osteopathic physicians in the world. Half a million could find a great mission and great remuneration to-day.

Science is the simplicity of truth. Osteopathy is the simplicity of science. It does not concern itself so much with symptoms, but applies the axe to the cause of the disease.

"Get back to nature" is the slogan of modern medical progress. Osteopathy is nature's method.

We teach Anatomy, Histology, Physiology, Pathology, Chemistry, Symptomatology, and everything taught in the medical universities except materia medica, for which is substituted the principles and practice of osteopathy.

We have graduated and sent into the field a large number of physicians. They have won success. They conquer disease. And after a few months of meritorious practice they are established for life.

The Southern School of Osteopathy is one of the oldest and best of the osteopathic institutions. It is a member of the associated colleges. Its diplomas give you credentials to practice anywhere on earth.

It requires four terms of five months each to complete the course. Tuition $300. Classes open in September and February each year.

Ask us any question. We want you to know what osteopathy is—we will trust your intelligence for the rest.

A request will bring you literature.

NOVEMBER 29, 1917.

The date of King Edward's coronation has been fixed for June 25.

Mon. Robt. B. Bradley, representative from Hopkins county, professed concern this week at a revival going on at the Baptist church in Madisonville.

When Gen. Murray next tries to suppress rioting in Hopkins county, he should get the names of some of his prisoners from the hotel registers of Madisonville and Nortonville.

Congress will convene Monday for the short session before the holiday adjournment. The message of the new President is said to be very lengthy, but conservative in tone.

Former Gov. Davis H. Waite of Colorado, fell dead at Aspen, Col., while peeling apples. He had been in good health up to the moment of his death. It is believed that the cause of death was heart trouble. Gov. Waite, from a sensational speech he made several years ago, was often referred to as "Bloody Beidies" Waite.

The county and State authorities both having failed in their feeble efforts to restore order in Hopkins county, the county pursued by the St. Bernard Company was about the only one left for that big corporation with $1,000,000 worth of property at stake. It is now incorporated under the laws of Delaware and as a position to demand protection from the Federal courts.

Judge Geo. F. Campbell, formerly judge of the Hopkinsville court, and now of Bardonia, Ky., is a candidate for Door-keeper of the House at Frankfort. Judge Campbell has an extensive acquaintance in many portions of the state and will enter the race with a strong following. George is a good Democrat weighing about 300 pounds and no better man could be found to block the way of those not entitled to admission to the chamber.

PREPARING PLANT LAND.

Some Farmers Already Burning Beds for Spring Sowing.

The weather for the past few weeks has been fine for farm work. Considerable fallowing has been done and much work that is usually laid over for spring has been disposed of. Some plant land has already been burned and will be prepared for use fully three months earlier than usual.

A Mothers' Medicine.

There is never any question of the value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in the minds of those who have used it as a preparation for maternity and for the reason that every woman who has experienced maternity has a definite standard of comparison by which she can measure the difference in her condition with and without the health giving aid of "Favorite Prescription."

For example Mrs. S. E. Rose, of Big Otter, Clay Co., West Va., writes Dr. Pierce as follows: "I am the mother of five children, and have been as high as eight days in the doctor's hands and never less than two days at any time until the birth of my last child. Then I had used two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and the doctor was with me only two hours."

Every mother will appreciate the force of that testimony. There is no chance for error or forgetfulness in such a case. It is a plain statement of fact: one hundred and ninety-two hours of suffering reduced to two hours by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

This shows what help "Favorite Prescription" renders in extreme cases. In the ordinary case of childbirth the use of this medicine makes the baby's advent practically painless. Thousands of women testify to this. Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm, Enosburg, Vt., says that she was in fast failing health and with the trial of motherhood before her when she began the use of "Favorite Prescription." The result was to quote the exact words of her letter: "I began to improve immediately; my health became excellent and I could do all my own work. I had a short easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription by its remarkable tonic properties, puts the system on a basis of sound health. Nature does the rest. Nervousness, morning sickness, loss of appetite, despondency and anxiety are all cured by the use of "Favorite Prescription." It gives great physical vigor and muscular elasticity, which explains the practically painless birth hour. It also induces a free flow of the nutritive secretions so that the mother is abundantly able to nurse and nourish her babe.

Is it any wonder that many a grateful woman's letter ends in terms similar to that of Mrs. J. W. O. Stephens, of Mills, Northumberland Co., Va., who writes: "I am hesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

Mr. Chase needs no introduction, as he is well known to all theatre-goers. "Thelma" is in four acts and includes all the principal and interesting scenes of the novel. NOVEMBER 29, 1901.

The date of King Edward's coronation has been fixed for June 25.

Hon. Robt. B. Bradley, representative from Hopkins county, professed religion this week at a revival going on at the Baptist church in Madisonville.

When Gen. Murray next tries to suppress rioting in Hopkins county, he should get the names of some of his prisoners from the hotel registers of Madisonville and Nortonville.

Congress will convene Monday for the short session before the holiday adjournment. The message of the new President is said to be very lengthy, but conservative in tone.

Former Gov. Davis H. Waite of Colorado, fell dead at Aspen, Col., while peeling apples. He had been in good health up to the moment of his death. It is believed that the cause of death was heart trouble. Gov. Waite, from a sensational speech he made several years ago, was often referred to as "Bloody Briddles" Waite.

The county and State authorities both having failed in their efforts to restore order in Hopkins county, the course pursued by the St. Bernard Company was about the only one left for that big corporation with $1,000,000 worth of property at stake. It is now incorporated under the laws of Delaware and as a position to demand protection from the Federal courts.

Judge Geo. F. Campbell, formerly judge of the Hopkinsville court, but now of Bardonia, Ky., is a candidate for Door-keeper of the House at Frankfort. Judge Campbell has an extensive acquaintance in many portions of the state and will enter the race with a strong following. George is a good Democrat, weighing about 300 pounds and no better man could be found to block the way of those not entitled to admission to the chamber.

Nothing has since been heard of the young people and the supposition is that they have had the nuptial knot tied ere this.

Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Cataract Cure is not a quick medicine. It is prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Cataract. Send for testimonials.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that condition of the blood which allows the acids to take hold.

Sometimes it is acute, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

It has been a long time since we have seen without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the world." Miss Anna Dorr, Sidney, Iowa.

Some Farmers Already Burning Beds for Spring Sowing.

The weather for the past few weeks has been fine for farm work. Considerable fallowing has been done and much work that is usually laid over for spring has been already been burned and will be prepared for use fully three months earlier than usual.

A Mother's Medicine.

There is never any question of the value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in the minds of those who have used it as a preparative for maternity, and for the reason that every woman who has experienced maternity has a definite standard of comparison by which she can measure the difference in her condition with and without the health giving aid of "Favorite Prescription."

For example Mrs. S. E. Rose, of Big Otter, Clay Co., West Va., writes Dr. Pierce as follows: "I am the mother of five children and have been as high as eight days in the doctor's hands and never less than two days at any time until the birth of my last child. Then I had used two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and the doctor was with me only two hours."

Every mother will appreciate the force of that testimony. There is no chance for error or forgetfulness in such a case. It is a plain statement of fact: one hundred and ninety-two hours of suffering reduced to two hours by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

This shows what help "Favorite Prescription" renders in extreme cases. In the ordinary case of childbirth the use of this medicine makes the baby's advent practically painless. Thousands of women testify to this. Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm, Enosburg, Vt., says that she was in fast failing health and with the trial of motherhood before her, when she began the use of "Favorite Prescription." The result was, to quote the exact words of her letter, "I began to improve immediately; my health became excellent and I could do all my own work. I had a short easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription by its remarkable tonic properties, puts the system on a basis of sound health. Nature does the rest. Nervousness, morning sickness, loss of appetite, despondency and anxiety are all cured by the use of "Favorite Prescription." It gives great physical vigor and muscular elasticity, which explains the practically painless birth hour. It also induces a free flow of the nutritive secretions so that the mother is abundantly able to nurse and nourish her babe.

Is it any wonder that many a grateful woman's letter ends with the words: "I began to improve immediately; my health became excellent and I could do all my own work. I had a short easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

The same result was reached in the contest between Garner Dalton and John A. Twyman for street superintendent.

The meeting after many fruitless ballots adjourned and will let Councilman Glass, the colored Republican member, break the ties on Dec. 6th.

The new council will go into office next Monday.

The officers to be elected on December 6th will not qualify until the first Tuesday in January.

The funny part of the Sunday Post-Dispatch is funnier than ever.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks Is Not Dead.

Notwithstanding a widely current rumor that the Rev. Irl R. Hicks was dead, he never was in better health, and never did a harder and more successful year's work than that just closing. He has just completed his large and splendid Almanac for 1902 and with his staff of able helpers, has brought his journal, Word and Works, justly famous into international reputation. For a quarter of a century Mr. Hicks has grown in reputation and usefulness as the people's astronomer, and forecaster of storms and the charter of coming seasons. Never were his weather forecasts so sought after as now, his timely warnings of a serious drouth this year having saved the people from loss and suffering. Millions of bushels of wheat were harvested through his advice to plant crops that would mature early. The American people will certainly stand by Prof. Hicks, when it costs them so little and the benefits are so great. His fine Almanac of 200 pages is only 25c, and his splendid family journal only one dollar a year including the Almanac. Send to Word and Works Pub. Co., 2201 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo.

The Virginia Street Public School will, on next Monday morning, move into the elegant and costly new building on the lot adjoining the temporary building that has been in use for several years. As soon as the classes are re-arranged there will be eight rooms instead of four occupied. The old frame building is for sale and when disposed of will be moved off the school lot.

The schools adjourned Wednesday afternoon for Thanksgiving and there will be no session until Monday, the interval being taken up in moving the desks, etc. from the old building.

M. G. There were 34,000 children in school this year, and the enrollment next year will be 50,000. A large normal school has just been opened at Rio Piedras to meet part of the demand.

Trentanove having been commissioned by the Directors of the St. Louis Exposition to pass upon the works of art offered by European exhibitors, it is expected they will spend much of the next eighteen months abroad.

Mrs. Lane is the youngest of Senator Blackburn's three daughters. Her marriage to Mr. Lane took place October 1, 1895. Mr. Lane at that time was occupying an important position in the Treasury, but later went abroad in the interest of a large mercantile concern and accumulated a fortune, which he left to his widow and a small daughter. COLOR COAL MINER

Dropped Dead Here On Occasion of Wedding Day.

Lucian Davis, a colored coal miner employed at the Crabtree mines, died here suddenly Tuesday morning. He arrived in the city Monday evening and spent the night with a friend on Jessup avenue. On awakening in the morning he complained of a pain in the head and died in a few minutes.

Coroner Allenworth held an inquest over the body and the verdict was in substance that death was due to congestion of the brain.

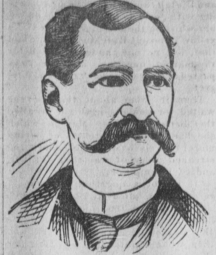

Davis was shot in the head about a year ago and had never fully recovered from the wound, it seems. He formerly lived near Lafayette, but had been at work in the coal mines for some time.

He was to have been married here on the day of his death.

About two years ago Davis shot and killed Henry Reese, at Herndon. He was acquitted of the charge of murder.

Senator Restored to Health

Peruna as a Nerve and Catarrh Tonic the Talk of the World.

Hon. W. V. Sullivan, U. S. Senator from Mississippi.

Hon. W. V. Sullivan, United States Senator from Mississippi, in a letter recently written to Dr. Hartman, from Oxford, Miss., says the following of Peruna as a catarrh remedy:

"For some time I have been a sufferer from catarrh in its most incipient stage, so much so that I became alarmed as to my general health."

"But, hearing of Peruna as a good remedy, I gave it a fair trial and soon began to improve. Its effects were distinctly beneficial, removing the annoying symptoms, and was particularly good as a tonic."

"I take pleasure in recommending your great national catarrh cure, Peruna, as the best I have ever tried."

Miss Irene Cooper, Assistant Superintendent of the Old People's Home, Chicago, Ill., also has a good word to say for Peruna. In a letter written from 1833 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., she gives in the following words her experience with the national catarrh remedy, Peruna:

"In these days of all kinds of medicine it is a comfort to know of a remedy which may be used with unquestioned beneficial results. I gladly recommend Peruna as a safe, reliable remedy in cases of catarrh of the stomach, helpful in building up the system worn out with overwork or age."

"Several of my friends who have used Peruna have spoken of it in the highest terms, and I congratulate you on its merits."

Mrs. W. E. Grissom, Henry, Ellis Co., Texas, writes:

"I took Peruna faithfully over two months, and the result is a thoroughly renovated system and a strong, buoyant feeling, to say nothing of a cure of the chronic catarrh. Therefore I shall avail myself of every opportunity to speak of Peruna as a catarrh cure."

Mr. Harry M. Stevens, Midland Beach, L. J., New York, proprietor of "The Richmond" Hotel, says of Peruna:

"It gives me pleasure to testify to the value of Peruna. I have used it for years and have found it to be a most excellent family remedy. For colds, catarrh and similar ills, it is unsurpassed." Cordially and gratefully,

H. M. Stevens.

Catarrh is a systemic disease, curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peruna does. Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve-centers which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. Then catarrh is permanently cured.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is not a guess nor an experiment—it is an absolute scientific certainty. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna.

A free book written by Dr. Hartman, on the subject of catarrh in its different phases and stages, will be sent by The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio, upon request.

Can you afford to experiment with unknown and untried brands of Fertilizers, when you can get right here what you know to be good? Coughs

My wife has been coughing for three years. I have tried two bottles of Dr. Williams' Cherry Pectoral, and she is now completely cured. I can recommend it to all who are afflicted with coughs.

W. R. Burt, Green, Col.

Probably you don't know of cough medicine that relieves little coughs, all except one! The medicine that has cured the worst of coughs for sixty years is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Don't let your cough go on. It is a dangerous sign, and you may lose your life. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the only cough medicine that has cured the worst of coughs for sixty years. It is a safe, reliable remedy in cases of catarrh of the stomach, helpful in building up the system worn out by overwork or age.

"Several of my friends who have used Peruna have spoken of it in the highest terms, and I congratulate you on its merits."

Mrs. W. E. Grissom, Henry, Ellis Co, Texas, writes:

"I took Peruna faithfully over two months, and the result is a thoroughly renovated system and a strong, buoyant feeling, to say nothing of a cure of the chronic catarrh. Therefore I shall avail myself of every opportunity to speak of Peruna as a catarrh cure."

Mr. Harry M. Stevens, Midland Beach, L. I., New York, proprietor of "The Richmond" Hotel, says of Peruna:

"It gives me pleasure to testify to the value of Peruna. I have used it for years and have found it to be a most excellent family remedy. For colds, catarrh and similar ills, it is unsurpassed." Cordially and gratefully,

H. M. Stevens.

Catarrh is a systemic disease, curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peruna does. Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve-centers which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. When catarrh is permanently cured.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is not a guess nor an experiment—it is an absolute scientific certainty. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna.

SHOWER OF ROCKS.

His House at Herndon Bombarded and Badly Damaged.

Unknown parties a few nights ago threw rocks at Mr. W. R. Harshouse at Herndon and the building was considerably damaged. The weatherboarding was crushed and window glass broken. The attack was made at a late hour and neighbors awakened by the noise heard vehicles leaving at a rapid gait.

The matter has been reported to the authorities and every effort will be made to ferret out the perpetrators of the deed.

Rev. I. R. Hicks Is Not Dead.

Notwithstanding a widely current rumor that the Rev. I. R. Hicks was dead, he never was in better health, and never did a harder and more successful year's work than that just closing. He has just completed his large and splendid Almanac for 1902 and with his staff of able helpers, has brought his journal, Word and Works, justly forward into international reputation. For a quarter of a century Mr. Hicks has grown in reputation and usefulness as the people's astronomer, and forecaster of storms and the charter of coming seasons. Never were his weather forecasts so sought after as now, his timely warning of a serious drought this year having saved the people from loss and suffering. Millions of bushels of wheat were harvested through his advice to plant crops that would mature early. The American people will certainly stand by Prof. Hicks, when it costs them so little and the benefits are so great. His fine Almanac of 200 pages is only 25c, and his splendid family journal is only one dollar a year including the Almanac. Send to Word and Works, Pub. Co., 2201 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo.

M. G. There were 34,000 children in school this year, and the enrollment next year will be 50,000. A large normal school has just been opened at Rio Piedras to meet part of the demand.

COLORADO COAL MINER

Dropped Dead Here On Occasion of Wedding Day.

Lucian Davie, a colored coal miner employed at the Crabtree mines, died here suddenly Tuesday morning. He arrived in the Monday evening and spent the night with a friend on Jessup avenue. On awakening in the morning he complained of a pain in the head and died in a few minutes.

Coroner Allensworth held an inquest over the body and the verdict was in substance that death was due to congestion of the brain.

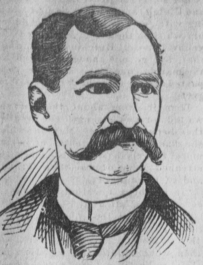

Davie was shot in the head about a year ago and had never fully recovered from the wound. It seems he formerly lived near Lafayette, but had been at work in the coal mines for some time.

He was to have been married here on the day of his death.

About two years ago Davie shot and killed Henry Reese, at Herndon. He was acquitted of the charge of murder.

Senator Restored to Health

Peruna as a Nerve and Catarrh Tonic the Talk of the World.

Hon. W. V. Sullivan, U. S. Senator from Mississippi.

Hon. W. V. Sullivan, United States Senator from Mississippi, in a letter recently written to Dr. Hartman, from Oxford, Miss., says the following of Peruna as a catarrh remedy:

"For some time I have been a sufferer from catarrh in its most incipient stage, so much so that I became alarmed as to my general health."

"But, hearing of Peruna as a good remedy, I gave it a fair trial and soon began to improve. Its effects were distinctly beneficial, removing the annoying symptoms, and was particularly good as a tonic."

"I take pleasure in recommending four great national catarrh cures, Peruna, as the best I have ever tried."

Miss Irene Cooper, Assistant Superintendent of the Old People's Home, Chicago, Ill., also has a good word to say for Peruna. In a letter written from 823 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., she gives in the following words her experience with the national catarrh remedy, Peruna:

"In these days of all kinds of medicine it is a comfort to know of a remedy which may be used with unquestioned beneficial results. I gladly recommend Peruna as a safe, reliable remedy in cases of catarrh of the stomach, helpful in building up the system worn out by overwork or age."

"Several of my friends who have used Peruna have spoken of it in the highest terms, and I congratulate you on its merits."

GEN. WADE HAMPTON

May Be Re-elected United States Senator Next Year.

Venerable Confederate Chieflain stronger than ever in the Affections of the People of South Carolina—A Pretty Contest.

The proposition to send Wade Hampton back to the United States senate has greatly stirred the people of South Carolina, but there are conflicting currents of opinion and many politicians find themselves in the most awkward predicament of their lives. In 1890, after serving 12 years in the state and being fairly worshipped by the men, women and children of South Carolina, Hampton was rudely stricken from the list of the state's sons worthy to be honored. In a frenzy of political excitement perhaps never witnessed in this country before this Southern general of the Confederate army, the man who had in 1876 led South Carolinians to victory restoring the whites once again to power, the hero in war, the no less hero in peace, the man whose illness when governor had caused a host to fall over the state while the people prayed in churches and by their hearthstones, this man was displaced that the manager of Tillman's successful campaign might be rewarded. He retired with dignity and never said that he would never ask his people for anything again.

But those who have been near Gen. Hampton, says the Chicago Herald, have known that the old chieflain was sorely wounded by this evidence of his people's ingratitude. Never a word would he say to indicate his feelings to the public, but he has believed the people were misled and that in time they would realize the wrong done and that time has been coming for years. With the subsiding of factional bitterness has come a return of the old love and reverence for Hampton and a desire to wipe out if possible the injury to him. In a modest way the love always borne for him by the patriotic women was exemplified more than a year ago. The old general's home was destroyed by fire and by

The kind in New York

AN EMBEZZLING DOG.

He Wasted on Beer Funds Meant for Charity.

A sad story of animal depravity comes from a northern coal district. For some years a well-known colliery region has been blessed with the services of a brown retriever, who, with a collecting bag strapped, saddle-wise across his back, was accustomed to travel from pit to pit begging coppers, or even higher contributions, on behalf of a sick and benevolent fund. In this way he has sometimes obtained as much as 22 shillings in a single week, says the London Express, and the fund itself has been the means of doing an immense amount of good. Of course the miners themselves have been contributing out of their weekly earnings, and the dog excited so much interest among them by the faithful performance of his mission that they readily put their spare coppers into the box he carried.

Some time ago the dog happened to call at a public house, where he knew a good many of his patrons would be assembled. Besides dropping pennies into his box and regaling him with biscuits some of them used to tell him tales of his own kind and to give him a nip or two out of their mugs of beer. In this way the unfortunate animal acquired a liking for drink, with the most deplorable results. It was not that he occasionally became intoxicated and was thereby unable to pursue his errand of mercy, but his whole moral nature became depraved. To such an extent had this deterioration gone that some days ago he was discovered by the side of the road in a perfectly helpless condition, with nothing remaining of his box except the straps. He was taken care of, and eventually got sober again, when his conduct became such as to excite the utmost wonder.

He whined piteously and tried to escape. By and by he became very violent, and the miners thought he was mad. They would not let him go, but tethered him to a long string, and then he led them to a place on the side of a rocky hill, where they discovered fragments of the collecting box and also the hiding place of the contents.

It seemed that after going his usual round on the preceding Saturday the dog had gone to this spot, and by some means—probably by rolling over and over on his back—broken the box to splinters and released the money. He had then concealed the coins, and, helping himself to them as his degenerate cravings prompted, had spent more than half of the money in beer at various public houses in the neighborhood. Great indignation is felt with the publicans who supplied him, for they knew the dog well and ought to have noticed the absence of his collecting box. And, moreover, after the first four or five drinks his condition "must have been a matter for remark."

The dog is now under careful restraint, and it is hoped that he may yet again resume his mission.

A NEIGHBORHOOD NURSERY.

Plan for Having Children Care for at Small Cost.

"Establishing a neighborhood nursery will not be difficult if you know any young woman whom all the children love, and who has to work for a living," writes Bertha Fogg Anthoine, in the Ladies' Home Journal. "If so, suggest to her that she take charge of the neighborhood babies from three to seven years old for a certain sum per month. A large playground and a big room are necessary. The playground should have a heap of small stones and several mounds of nice dry sand. The play room should have plenty of floor space. The governess should overlook the play and keep the tangles straightened out. She should punish only in exceptional cases, and by the mildest means, but she should interfere before a quarrel has reached dangerous proportions. As to the financial arrangements, circumstances must govern the details. The average female wage-earner receives five dollars a week, for six days' work of eight to ten hours' duration. To the $20 a month add five dollars for rent of room and playground, then divide by the number of children enrolled."

Creameries in Siberia.

The production of butter in Siberia has increased during the past few years to a very marked degree. In the vicinity of Banaul, for instance, there are at present 300 creameries, against two in 1896. The demand for milk vessels has consequently assumed large proportions. A factory for the production of these articles has lately been established at Kurga, but, as it cannot even approximately

BUSINESS SIGNS.

A Firm's Placards a Fair Index to Its Financial Condition.

"The evolution of the sign is one of the interesting features of modern business methods," said an observant citizen of New Orleans to a Times-Democrat reporter, "and when we come down to it the sign is a pretty good indication of what a city is in a business way. The business man who watches the signs in order to get the drift of the wind can tell whether it is well with the city by the appearance of the signs which are placed on the fronts of business houses and scrawled out on the boards. New Orleans is filled with elaborate signs—signs that are works of art, signs that tell a story of thrift, and bustle, and progress, and prosperity. The signs that are painted in cheap colors are disappearing. The metallic sign is now the proper thing. Metallic signs are put out in frames in the show windows. Go into Camp street, and in one of the big furniture establishments you will find one of these new metallic signs resting in an artistic frame in one of the show windows. Go around in Gravier street, and you will find circling the pillars of the stone building occupied by the Whitney national bank, and along the facing of the large windows, metallic signs which will proclaim the name of the institution to generations yet unborn. The letters are raised, with a polished surface, and with a darker background, which gives prominence and artistic competency to the lettering. Signs of this kind tell prosperity's story in the city where they are played. More gorgeous signs follow in the wake of prosperous conditions. But they are conservatively gorgeous. They combine the beauties of the artistic concept with the skill and acumen of business sagacity, and behind them one may imagine, without straining one's fancy, the hustle and bustle, push and vim of really happy, up-to-date conditions. Go into the village where the business impulse is sluggish, where conditions are stagnant and untoward, where men are idling on the corners, whistling dreary rainy-day airs in the back room, or whistling on a dry goods box; go into such a village, and you will find the weather-beaten, mildewed sign, the battered sign with the fading letters, the drooping sign, the sign which is almost wrung from its hinges, and you may know the business of the town without looking at them. Look at the shreds in the clothing house. Yes, signs are a good index, and they tell a story more eloquently than praises on the one hand or protestations on the other, and so I say the sign becomes an interesting factor when we come to consider evolutionary processes in the business world, and the more elaborate and more artistic signs which we see today are full of good cheer for the common currency."

BY-PRODUCT COKING.

Its History Illustrates the Slow Growth of Such Schemes.

The first mention of the by-product coking dates back to 1768, in which year it was produced by a chemical process. As a by-product oven was used, in the early days of the process, in the Rhineland. Experiments along many, systematic experiments along many lines were made in France and Belgium many years ago, and in 1863 a by-product oven plant was in efficient operation at St. Etienne, France. From that time until 1892, when Mr. L. Senet, an eminent engineer and a director of the firm of Solvay & Co., of Brussels, Belgium, perfected the Semet-Solvay retort coke oven system, this departure in fuel making underwent a gradual development.

Room for Poster p.

The great lawyer had drawn up the woman's will and was reading it over to her. When he had finished she expressed her satisfaction. "That's right," she said. "There are some mighty queer words in it, but it has the right meaning." The lawyer took five sheets of blank legal cap paper and fastened them to the will.
